LEGISLATURE CONVENED NOON

LABOR TROUBLES CONTINUE SPREAD

STRIKES CALLED IN PLANTS THREE HUGE STEEL CORPORATIONS

CIO CHOOSES THIS METHOD FORCING COLLECTIVE BARGAINING CONTRACTS

By The Associated Press.
Over a far flung front, mill workers picketed properties of three large independent steel producers today in a strike climaxing a year long fight to win union collective bargaining contracts throughout the industry.

Nearly 70,000 were idle in the walkout called by the steel branch of the Committee for Industrial Organization after Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Corporation and Inland Steel company spurned demands for written bargaining agreements.

Minor violence marked the start of the walkout. A shotgun blast wounded a foreman at Canton, O. More than 20 mill workers were arrested in a brush with police at South Chicago, Ill., and a C. I. O. textile organizer claimed he was slugged at South Buffalo, N. Y.

Republic officials in many localities were successful in plans to keep their plants in operation. A Cleveland spokesman said the policy would be pursued unless safety of workers should be endangered.

The three independents produce approximately 16 per cent of the $5,000,000,000 industry's output. They employ one-seventh of the steel workers and their properties extend from the Gulf to Canada and from Coast to Coast.

Steel production in recent weeks has been at the highest rate since 1929.

Pick Next Objectives.

With strikes in progress at the three independents, leaders of the CIO steel workers committee said they had singled out the National Steel Corporation and Bethlehem Steel Corporation, employing a total of 107,000 men, as next major objectives of their campaign.

While the union threatened retaliation, three official investigations started into the beating of United Automobile Workers Union leaders and members yesterday at the Ford Motor company at Detroit. The union attacked it as a move to prosecute in every possible way those responsible.

The strike became effective last night when producers persisted in their objections to signed contracts recognizing the SWOC as bargaining agent for its members, or government supervised elections to determine whether the union should represent all employees.

Construction On Part Highway 22 Is Expected Soon

Start of construction on the second section of Highway 22 between Pinkston to Blooming Grove is anticipated in the near future. Corsicana attendants at the Mexican overpass celebration reported Thursday following a conference with Harry Hines, member of the state highway commission.

Mr. Hines told the local delegation that he had signed some of the necessary papers on the project while in Mexico Wednesday after they had been sent to him by courier. The papers were scheduled to be sent to Washington by airmail and the commissioner said it was hoped that the project could be included in the June 4 letting, or in the second June letting at the latest.

It was also learned Thursday morning that large quantities of oil are being placed on the road from Malakoff to Cayuga in an effort to provide an adequate road to this rapidly expanding oil sector.

SPANISH GOVERNMENT ACCUSES ITALY WITH BELLIGERENT ACTS

MOST SCANDALOUS VIOLATION OF INTERNATIONAL PRINCIPLES CHARGED

GENEVA, May 27.—(AP)—The Spanish government today accused Italy of the "most scandalous violation" of international principles since the World War in a League of Nations "white book" intended to show the fascist state as a "truly belligerent power" in violation of the League of Nations covenant.

The "White Book" handed to members of the league council by the Spanish government delegation, is not an official league document. It is a Spanish government compilation of documents, one of them purporting to be a "secret" and "most urgent" order from the Italian war office to the corps command of the general staff. The document allegedly was captured from Italian soldiers fighting on the side of the insurgents in Spain.

The "White Book" published today, said Italy was guilty of "the most scandalous violation" perpetrated since the world war of the principles which are the basis of any juridically organized international community.

It added: "By behaving in a manner indicated by the document reproduced in the white book Italy has helped to prolong the war in Spain; has violated article ten of the league covenant and has acted as a truly belligerent power."

(Article 10 of the League of Nations Covenant reads: "The members of the League shall refrain from any act of aggression or the use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state.")

GOVERNOR ALLRED SUBMITS REPEAL OF RACE BETTING LAW

DECLARED PEOPLE HAVE CLEARLY INDICATED THEY WANT ACT REPEALED

AUSTIN, May 27.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred called on the legislature assembled today in extraordinary session to outlaw legalized gambling on horse racing in Texas not only to meet a "great moral and economic need" but to preserve "integrity and respect for government itself."

In a message personally delivered to a joint meeting of the legislative branches, the governor reviewed the history of the long controversy over horse race betting in this state, going back to near the start of the century, and advanced many reasons which he said justified immediate repeal of the law which four years ago legalized such betting.

He said the people have clearly indicated they wanted the law repealed, having spoken in the gubernatorial primaries of 1934 and 1936 when he himself was elected, that demands for repeal had been written into the state Democratic platform of those years and that he had repeatedly made the recommendation to the legislature.

Asserting that the house of representatives at the general session of the legislature concluded last week had voted for repeal 100 to 26, he declared the bill had run up against a filibuster in the senate which had been "disgracefully successful."

"It is urged that this law ought to be repealed," he said.

NIGHT-CLUBBING AFTER PREACHING OWN FUNERAL

A week after preaching his own "funeral sermon," Wade Millman, 88, Cotesville, Ind., farmer, is shown taking a fling at life in a Chicago night club with the aid of Peggy Gately (left), and Sophie Schubert, chorus girls. Millman's trip to Chicago by plane was his first experience with air travel.

FIGHT OVER RACE BETTING REPEAL IS OPENED ANEW TODAY

TEN BILLS DEALING WITH MATTER BEFORE SPECIAL SESSION OFFERED

AUSTIN, May 27.—(AP)—The fight over repeal of the Texas law permitting horse race betting broke out anew today as the legislature assembled in special session to consider that subject alone.

Governor James V. Allred, who considered repeal important enough to justify the expense of a session, appeared personally before the lawmakers to urge their elimination of "race track gambling."

"We are dedicated as a state," he said, "to legislation seeking to remove as much as possible the opportunity for unbridled indulgence in vice. Repeal of the race track gambling law will remove the temptation, the opportunity and, to some extent, the inclination to gamble."

Ten bills dealing with racing were introduced in the house. Some proposed immediate repeal, others repeal effective two years hence, a third group local option on the issue and a fourth tightening of the statutes against bookmaking.

Twenty-three of the 31 senators and 108 of the 150 house members endorsed the immediate repeal bill presented in what Allred called a "disgracefully successful filibuster."

Just before the close of his address, the governor specifically endorsed the immediate repeal bill signed by Rep. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene and many other house members. He pointed out that Bradbury was author of the bill which the house passed at the regular session. Sen. C. H. Nelson of Lubbock expected to offer a bill in the upper chamber identical with that prepared by Bradbury.

Before recessing for lunch, the house rushed through a bill to appropriate $100,000 for session expenses. Both branches voted to reconvene later in the afternoon.

BATTLE AT FORD PLANT HAS BROUGHT ON INVESTIGATIONS

UNION THREATS OF RETALIATION FOR BEATINGS OF OFFICIALS ALSO MADE

DETROIT, May 27.—(AP)—A battle of fists and feet in which distributors of United Automobile Workers of America literature were driven from the Ford Motor Co. gates had repercussions today in three official investigations and union threats of retaliation.

At least 18 union members, among them Richard T. Frankenstein, director of the U. A. W. campaign to organize Ford workers, and Walter Reuther, president of the union's West Side local, bore cuts and bruises. Among the injured were eight women.

Frankenstein said he was knocked down repeatedly, kicked, beaten and thrown down a concrete stairway. A physician said he had possible internal injuries.

Over the same stairway today passed many of the 40,000 day shift employees who went to work as usual. Union leaflets which littered the ground at the height of yesterday's disturbance had disappeared.

There was no attempt by the union to renew its foray into Ford territory and no indication that efforts to distribute literature would be repeated when 30,000 evening shift employees go to work this afternoon.

Contradictory Statements.

There were contradictory statements as to who inflicted the injuries on the union members yesterday.

DETACHMENT OF U. S. SOLDIERS TO VISIT CORSCICANA

OFFICERS AND ENLISTED MEN TO SPEND TWO DAYS IN THIS CITY

Arrangements were completed Wednesday afternoon for Corsicana to be hosts for two days to a detachment of the Second Division, United States Army, on June 20 and 21, and plans are now under way for a "National Defense" celebration for the city and county.

Colonel H. L. Landers, district recruiting officer and special representative of Major General Parsons, commanding the Second Division, conferred with local leaders Wednesday afternoon and outlined the proposed visit of the regular army unit.

Equipment Exhibited.

Colonel Landers stated that it was the purpose of General Parsons to give the civilian public a better idea of the variety of forces now included in the standing army along with exhibits of their equipment, and at the same time give the soldiers an opportunity to become better acquainted with non-military life.

Tentative arrangements were made for the detachment to make its camp on the old circus ground just east of the Corsicana Cotton Mills where it will be easily accessible to the public. On a tour of a number of towns in Central and North Texas, the detachment is expected to arrive in Corsicana from Mexico early Sunday morning.

Former Resident Corsicana Died Dallas Thursday

C. R. Terry, aged 73 years, former pioneer business and civic leader of Corsicana, for many years, died at his home in Dallas about noon Thursday.

No funeral arrangements had been made early Thursday afternoon. He had been ill for some time.

Mr. Terry was one of the original stockholders of the Corsicana National Bank and was vice president and director of the institution for many years. He was a member of the grain company, Terry & McAfee, and later C. R. Terry & Son, for many years.

Surviving are a son, C. L. Terry, Corsicana; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Williams, Dallas; a stepson, Albert Sidney Johnson, Dallas, chairman of the Texas safety commission, and other relatives.

Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home will direct the arrangements.

SHARP CRITICISM OF ANTI-STRIKE PLAN IN RELIEF WORK BILL

MAVERICK OF TEXAS DENOUNCES EARMARKING OF FUNDS ON HOUSE FLOOR

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—A storm controversy broke on the house floor today over an attempt to write into the $1,500,000,000 relief bill an amendment denying relief workers the right to strike.

Although the proposal, by Representative Fuller (D-Ark.), was shouted down, it precipitated a flood of criticism.

"This is the most ridiculous thing I ever heard of," declared Representative Moverick (D-Tex.). "What are we? Are we the house of lords back in 1851? Why, we must be crazy even to listen to things like that."

The Texas vehemently denounced previous amendments earmarking the bill for flood control, public works and other specific projects.

"We've earmarked and earmarked," he shouted, "until the bill hasn't got any ears left. We've earmarked until it's no longer a relief bill."

Fuller had proposed an amendment which would have the ineligible for relief any person who went on strike or incited or encouraged strikes.

Representatives Bollean (Prog-Wis.) and Moverick (D-Tex.) precipitated a debate on alien assistance by offering an amendment.

HEAVIEST RAIN IN FIVE YEARS FALLS OVER DUST BOWL

MORE THAN TWO INCHES OF RAIN RECORDED IN SOUTH-WEST DRY AREA

Amarillo, May 27.—(AP)—The heart of the Southwest's dust bowl quenched its thirst today in the heaviest rain to come its way in five years. Downpours attaining cloudburst proportions in some areas dropped rain in amounts up to 2.64 inches last night. A strip 50 miles wide east and west of Amarillo, from Southern Kansas through Oklahoma's panhandle and into the Texas plains.

Dalhart reported the heaviest fall. A hail-laden storm preceded the rain in that area damaged early garden crops, fruit trees dropped 20 degrees in a few minutes and better than an inch of rain fell in 30 minutes.

Crop prospects soared in a region out of which great dust storms have risen in recent years because of a lack of moisture. Rains of an inch and a half or better were reported from Elter, Texas, and Boise City, Okla., Guymon, Texhoma, Mallett, in Oklahoma, and Texline, Rehmi, in Texas.

The fine wheat sector in Ochiltree, Hemphill and Garfield counties reported good rains eastward across the panhandle were expected to benefit greatly. Corn also will flourish in that section, observers expected.

The precipitation extended into

One Man Killed, Two Others Hurt, Accidents Here

One man was killed and two were injured in two accidents near Corsicana Thursday morning.

Frank Aguilar, 37, a section gang laborer for the Burlington & Rock Island Lines, was reported to have been injured while attempting to uncouple two cars north of Corsicana about 10 o'clock this morning. He was brought to the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic, where he died shortly before noon.

His injuries included a crushed left arm, crushed chest, a brain concussion, scalp lacerations, and other bruises and abrasions.

B. L. Seely, 27, foreman of the gang, a resident of the Onion Creek community, figured in the same accident, but was discharged from the hospital after an examination disclosed he was uninjured.

Elbert Bensley, 32, local filling station operator, received a fractured pelvis, scalp wounds and cuts about the body on a highway early today when he was changing a tire and was reported to have been struck by another passing automobile. He was brought to the Navarro Clinic, where attending physicians said he will recover.

Burned beyond recognition, the victims were identified as Mrs. C. Willard Whitney and Mrs. Dorothy Paumiller, both of Carmel, Calif.; Harry F. Emme, Los Angeles oil operator, and Rod Keenan, pilot for the Joe Lewis Air Service, Burbank, Calif.

ROCKEFELLER BURIED BETWEEN GRAVES OF HIS MOTHER AND WIFE

SHORT CEREMONY AT CEMETERY IN CLEVELAND PRECEDED INTERMENT

CLEVELAND, May 27.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller was buried today between the graves of his wife and his mother after a short ceremony in Lake View cemetery.

The body of the aged financier arrived today, escorted by relatives and members of his household, and was taken almost immediately to the cemetery, not far from the Forest Hills estate where Rockefeller lived for many years.

The funeral party came here in special cars from Tarrytown, N. Y., where funeral services were held yesterday.

Rev. Willard S. Richardson of New York, a college classmate of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., accompanied the party from New York and officiated at the brief committal ceremony.

A short funeral procession from the east Cleveland railroad station, through the Forest Hills estate, led to the cemetery.

Believed Five Hundred Perish As Dam Breaks

MEXICO CITY, May 27.—(AP)—Residents of El Oro, in the state of Mexico, in telephone messages said about 500 persons were believed to have been killed when the collapse of a dam killed the nearby town of Talapujahu, Michoacan, in mud and sand.

The dam, high in the mountains of the Talapujahu Sierra, held back deposits of mud, sand and cyanide from metal processing operations carried on by the Dos Estrallas mining camp.

Recent heavy rains had so increased the pressure that the dam went out at 3 a. m. today while most of the residents of Talapujahu, situated in a deep barranca (ravine) below, were asleep.

Residents of El Oro, just across the state line from Talapujahu, said residents who escaped were almost insane from fright and shock.

LIST OF GRADUATES JUNIOR HI SCHOOL ANNOUNCED TODAY

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SIX TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS FRIDAY MORNING

By HOMER MCCOY
HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 27.—(AP)—Katie, with the usual scolding of the press, Al Hall, director, is attempting a daring experiment. He is trying to show that a newspaperman is actually a sort of fellow you would bring in to your own home and introduce to your sister and mother.

This amount to a minor motion picture revolution and Hall is carrying it out in "exclusive" the picture of newspapering he is directing.

The Journalist, Hall declared today, has been much maligned by the films. Thus far, as interpreted by Hollywood, he has been shown as a thoroughly objectionable fellow.

For one thing, screen news-hawks always wear hats. These hats are battered, disreputable-looking objects and the reporters never take them off—not in the city room, drawing room or in the presence of death.

They have a strange jargon delivered, alley-fashion and garbled, the finished product is just what one would expect. The pictures that come rolling off the presses bear breath-taking headlines.

Hall is making a sincere effort to remedy this distortion of facts. For one thing, he and his advisers have made a careful study of newspaper men and newspapermen. The picture of the Gazette which will appear in the picture are being edited by competent journalists. The reporters are fairly clean-cut, soft-spoken gentlemen, honest-to-gosh newsmen are being used in the city room scenes.

One hundred thirty-seven junior high school students, including 59 boys and 78 girls, were named as graduates today and will receive their diplomas at the annual commencement exercise at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the school's auditorium.

FRENCH PASSENGER PLANE IS ATTACKED BY REBEL AIRMEN

PILOT AND ONE PASSENGER INJURED AND PLANE BROUGHT DOWN

BILBAO, Spain, May 26.—(AP)—Machine gun bullets from an insurgent fleet of warplanes downed a French "air Pyrenees" transport plane near this besieged Basque regional capital today and wounded the French pilot and a Spanish passenger.

The plane was damaged badly both by the bullets and by the force of a "pancake" landing on sandy soil near Sopelana, 13 miles north of here, behind Basque government war lines.

The wounded pilot and the Spanish passenger—one of four—were brought by automobile to Bilbao and placed in a hospital. Both are expected to recover. All the passengers were Spaniards. The plane was approaching the mouth of the Nervion river, towards the coast from Bilbao, when seven insurgent planes, described by Basques as a German-built fleet, were reported to have raked it with machine gun fire.

The pilot, Jean Gally, is a former French army flier. The windows of the transport's cabin were reported to have been perforated by dozens of bullets.

One of the passengers who was not hurt was a woman, Antonia Larranaga, enroute to Bilbao to rejoin her family at nearby Algorta. Basque sources reported that the plane left the Biarritz airport at 10:10 a. m.

When it was near the mouth of the Nervion river, which runs from the sea to Bilbao, a squadron of seven insurgent planes attacked. The Basques said they were "German-made."

Gally, shortly after his arrival at Bilbao, underwent an operation for head wounds. He was reported doing well.

The plane was enroute to this beleaguered Basque capital when it was shot down in the insurgent attack. It belonged to the "Air-Pyrenees" French line and was in shuttle service between Bayonne, France and Bilbao.

Basque officials declared the air liner had been attacked by several Heinkel fighters while flying over government territory. Sopelana is about five miles west of the point where the insurgent ring about Bilbao meets the coast of the Bay of Biscay.

There were four passengers aboard. The air liner's home port, Bayonne, France, reported from official Basque sources the plane managed to land on the beach at Sopelana after the insurgent craft turned machine guns on it.

The passenger plane left the airport at Biarritz, on the French coast, today carrying passengers and mail. One report said a passenger was slightly injured.

(At Paris, the French foreign office said it had no information concerning the plane.)

The liner was clearly marked "Air Pyrenees" with huge, black letters on the silver fuselage. French registry numbers were equally conspicuous on the wings. Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco several times has declared publicly his forces intended to shoot down the Bayonne-Bilbao air ferry on grounds it is "air blockade runner" despite its French registry, ownership and crew.

Little Kerens Girl Entertained on Her Birthday Monday

KERENS, May 26.—(Spl.)—Mrs. B. O. Hemphill entertained with a lawn party Monday evening for her niece, Betty Jo Smith, in honor of her tenth birthday. Eighteen friends and classmates of the honoree were present to share the happy occasion with her. Entertainment included outdoor games and a treasure hunt. At the conclusion of the play, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ash McClung and Miss Diana Kimbrell, served the pink and white birthday cake with ice cream and cherry lemonade.

KERENS, May 26.—(Spl.)—The members of the Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. A. B. Keen. The lesson study for the afternoon was "The Church Universal." Mrs. August Hill, the leader, chose as her topic, "Life Ancestry, while other parts on the program were given by Mrs. W. J. Alley and Miss Ima Lee Floyd. Mrs. Bob Horan of Dallas was a guest.

Reorganization Program Revived Congress Today

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—A joint congressional committee revived the president's long-dormant governmental reorganization plan today by deciding on prompt introduction in both houses of legislation to rebuild scores of executive agencies from top to bottom.

Senate Majority Leader Robinson announced the joint reorganization committee had agreed to split into house and senate groups, each of which would draft its own legislation.

The house group was expected to submit at least four bills, designed to carry out the president's program piecemeal.

A single senate measure embodying the whole reorganization scheme is being drafted by Robinson himself, who said it would be ready to lay before congress within ten days.

Senate leaders indicated they probably would hold public hearings on their measure, but that the four house bills would be submitted without hearings.

ATTORNEY URGES ACQUITTAL FOR PAIR IN MURDER TRIAL

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 27.—(AP)—Counsel for 17-year old Gladys MacKnight appealed to a jury today to acquit her of a murder charge in the hatchet slaying of her mother and "send her back home to her father."

In a quiet summation lasting an hour and forty minutes, R. Lewis Kennedy, attorney for the girl, referred to her co-defendant, Donald Wightman, 19, and said:

"It is not my desire to prove Gladys innocent by proving Donald guilty."

Each accused the other of striking the fatal hatchet blows and told widely divergent stories of the actual slaying.

Despite the girl's accusations against Wightman, her attorney indicated a belief the jury should also acquit the youth on the ground he swung the hatchet in self defense.

"If you believe that either this boy or girl acted in self defense, you should acquit both defendants," Kennedy said.

On these three points Kennedy based his plea for acquittal of the girl.

"The attempted attack by Mrs. MacKnight with a kitchen knife," he said.

"The attempt to disarm her by Gladys."

"The fact that the hatchet blows were struck over Gladys' head," he said.

"One of the wounds on Mrs. MacKnight's head were below the hair line," he said.

DEATH SENTENCE OF HENDERSON COUNTY KILLER IS AFFIRMED

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS RULES GEORGE PATTON MUST DIE IN CHAIR

AUSTIN, May 26.—(AP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the death sentence given George Patton, 55-year-old Henderson county farmer, for the murder of Mrs. Carrie McGeehee on the Patton farm near Athens in 1932.

The court ruled there was no doubt of sufficiency of testimony to support the verdict. The case had been submitted on circumstantial evidence. Patton had been charged also in the slayings of Mrs. McGeehee's husband and two children who disappeared from the Patton farm several years ago. Skeletons identified as those of the McGeehee family were dug from the entrance of Patton's cowshed.

The court reversed and remanded the death sentence assessed Artie Cook, convicted in Henderson county of the murder of W. T. German, aged farmer, Sept. 25, 1934 because the trial court erred in not granting a change of venue.

The case was a companion one to that of Huey P. Fulton, previously reversed and remanded. Elmer Pruitt also convicted in the same murder, was electrocuted April 30.

Charles Wair of Gregg county, given death for conviction of criminal assault in Harrison county, was assured a new trial when the court ruled evidence was insufficient to support the conviction. Judge O. S. Lattimore dissented.

Affirmed were cases of Pedro Haro of Travis county, given life on conviction of burglary which receded the habitual criminal charge; Albert Tobo of Jefferson county, 30 years for killing Eddie Francis, a Port Arthur barber, and Frank Ralston of Cooke county, seven years for murder.

CHAIRMAN OF HOUSE LABOR COMMITTEE FAVOR THIRTY HOURS

QUICK CONSIDERATION ADMINISTRATION WAGE AND HOUR BILL SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—Chairman Connery (D-Mass) of the house labor committee, arranging for quick consideration of the administration wage and hour bill, expressed a preference today for setting the maximum work week at 30 hours.

"Both Chairman Black of the senate labor committee and I are for a 30-hour week," he said. "If necessary, though, I would go as high as 40 hours."

Minimum wage and maximum hour figures were left blank in the bills which the two chairmen introduced yesterday after President Roosevelt recommended enactment of labor conditions that "meet rudimentary standards of decency."

Connery said he would insist on at least a $16 minimum weekly wage for employees engaged in interstate commerce or producing goods for interstate shipment.

Black said, however, he had no definite agreement with the representative on wage and hour figures. He added there might be many changes in the measure but Connery predicted congress would approve the bill "just as it is."

Senate hearings may begin this week. Connery scheduled his hearings to start next Tuesday and predicted a report on the bill in three weeks.

Certain Goods Be Excluded. The measure would exclude interstate commerce goods produced under "oppressive" labor conditions, such as working employees more hours or paying smaller wages than the standards set by congress, using child labor, and hiring labor spies and strike-breakers.

A senate interstate commerce subcommittee completed meanwhile the rough draft of a separate child labor bill which Chairman Johnson (D-Colo.) said filled the president's recommendation on that point.

Both the Black-Connery bill provides that all industries in interstate commerce would have to come up to its standards, a five-member board studying conditions in industry by industry could set a minimum "fair wage" or maximum "reasonable work week" either higher or lower than the national standards.

Agricultural laborers would be excluded from the bill's provisions along with any person employed in an executive supervisory or professional capacity.

JUNE 20 HAS BEEN SET AS DEADLINE HOSPITAL OFFERS

AUSTIN, May 27.—(AP)—Claude D. Teer, chairman of the board of control, said today June 20 was the deadline for cities to file applications for location of a West Texas state hospital for the insane.

The $817,000 institution, authorized by the legislature, must be located west of the 100th meridian or in a county through which it passes.

Teer requested that delegations not call on the board until a schedule of hearings had been set. The bill provided that not less than 300 acres of land be donated for the hospital and Teer advised that between 300 and 600 acres of fertile agricultural land and between 500 and 1,000 acres of other land be provided.

The hospital would be located with a view to accessibility to the greatest number of inhabitants to be served by it indicating, Teer said, that it should be in central West Texas. Accessibility of utilities and supplies also would be a major factor. A distance of not more than six miles from a city was desirable, Teer said.

CORSICANA, TEX., MAY 28, 1937
WHY IS GEOGRAPHY?

There have been great changes in the teaching of geography in the last generation. Formerly geography study in the schools was devoted chiefly to learning the names of capital cities and rivers, bounding countries and states, listing mountain ranges and naming oceans and lakes.

Lately economic geography, or social geography, has become the thing. The emphasis has been on effect of climate on human life, the earth's products and man's industries, the influence of economics on exploration and colonization, trade routes, modes of living in different regions. Youngsters know a surprising amount of such things. They still draw maps and use globes in the class room, but geographical facts are tied up with human beings. Perhaps the new geography has gone too far. At any rate, a speaker so warned members of the New York Geographical Society the other day.

"Unless we as geographers act promptly in a united front," he said, "geography stands a very good chance of going into the discard entirely, or at least losing its identity and discipline of thought in a fused course with the more purely social sciences."

This is a puzzling warning. Are the geographical trends a menace to sound education, or a threat to geography teachers' jobs? Can't disciplinary geography and economic geography be sensibly combined?

CLOSED STATE BOUNDARIES.

Isn't this business of state border patrols going too far? Some states, during the worst of the depression, watched their boundary lines and turned back individuals or families who might become public dependents. There are no figures to show how much they saved their treasuries by this means. Neither are there figures to show what they lost in good will or what potential geniuses they may have kept out.

Lately, it is reported, a few states are trying to gain extra revenue by stopping out-of-state cars at the border and requiring drivers to pay a mileage tax or purchase local license plates, identification cards, permits, and so on. For some reason, motorists have docilely paid or purchased, without questioning the state's right to do any of these things. Some states put taxes on products which are manufactured in other states in competition with products of their own.

If the thing goes farther a bad situation will be created. We may suddenly find ourselves split into 48 rival communities with artificial and annoying barriers raised against each other, as if it were so many different nations. Then what will become of our very profitable cross-country touring?

The Constitution forbids states to set up tariffs against each other, but some of these current nuisances amount to the same thing. Will this go on until we have ports of entry and fortifications at state boundaries, or will good sense stop it before irreparable damage is done to the whole country?

Mostly we don't care for the phrase, "If, when and as," but we recommend it. Gen. Franco for use when he talks about "re-organizing Spain as a Fascist state."

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

AFTERWARD.

When we returned the rooms were empty.
The table set for tea.
The little room wherein she slept was trim and orderly.

A neighbor met us at the door; There always one to stay.
To dust the chairs and sweep the floor
And put the things away.

"Come now and eat," the neighbor said
And O, so sweetly smiled
As if she had been ages dead
And we were reconciled.

We bravely talked of this and that,
But strange it seemed to me
That in her chair the neighbor sat
And smiling, poured the tea.

STUDENTS' IMMUNITY.

Undergraduates at Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology had a spring frolic recently which got out of bounds, figuratively and actually. When it became a matter of disturbing non-collegiate citizens and destroying property, the police were called in.

Usually outbursts of boyish exuberance are smiled at indulgently by the authorities. The rioters are eventually restored to their own domain and everybody agrees to overlook their pranks. Something different happened after this latest rough-house. The youthful participants were taken to court and found themselves before a judge who said:

"There seems to be some idea that there is something sacred about the persons of students and that the police shall not touch them. This is not the case. There is no reason why a Harvard man, a Tech man, or a Senator should not be arrested if he commits a crime."

Then he imposed fines on the rioters. It's a lesson students in general should take to heart.

NATURE IN THE NEWS

Somebody checked up a metropolitan newspaper recently and found, in a single issue, stories about, or references to, an amazing assortment of creatures. A New York Times writer listed them as follows:

"The broad-bellied tapir, chimpanzees, the armadillo, snakes, the vixen, lions (twice), tigers, the domestic cat, the raccoon, the marmoset, the dachshund, badgers, trout, fingerlings, bluefish, salmon, trotting horses, running horses, a laundry wagon horse who was smarter than his driver, Texas steers that poked their noses into a night club, a bullfrog, a toad, a redwing, a hawk, chickens (as food), goldfish, a baby elephant, President Roosevelt's catfish."

Although a few were mentioned that day because of the publication of a pamphlet, "Who's Who in the Zoo," most of them were there just as odd and interesting bits of news.

Maybe there's too much crime and scandal in the newspapers, as some critics declare, but again, maybe their critics just think so because that is part of the paper they always read.

POETRY CELEBRATION

National Poetry Week, May 22-29, may be celebrated by writing poetry or reading poetry or entertaining poets, or in any way that suits the individual. It may even be completely overlooked and ignored by those prosy mortals who don't know what it's about and don't like poetry or poets.

In some communities, which take poetry seriously, there will be poets' dinners, teas, breakfasts, radio programs and verse-reading contests. The public will be thoroughly exposed to poetry and, it is hoped, some persons will discover for themselves a new beauty and joy they missed before.

If that happens, poetry week will doubtless have been worth while. It will be especially worth while if young people participating in special programs learn the music of well-read poets. Few people nowadays seem to understand meter. But for the most part, the period is likely to be just another special week. True poetry lovers need no national ballyhoo to call them to honor it. Those who do not love poetry, and can't understand why anyone does, won't heed the call if they happen to hear it.

"By all means cut it down—but save my branch!"SUCCESSFUL TELEVISION

A feature of the coronation neglected in most of the news was the use, for the first time, of television, in outdoor pick-ups, to broadcast views of the parade and the principals. The experiment was a complete success and proved the practicability of television for such purposes, except for one thing—the huge expense.

A cable was laid from Alexandra Palace, the studio site, to Hyde Park Corner. Installation of such cables costs about $5,000 a mile. A good television receiving set costs $400. Nevertheless, it was estimated that 50,000 television sets in an area of 7,500 square miles, saw and heard simultaneously just what people in the stands at Hyde Park Corner saw and heard as the procession passed them.

Three television cameras without films were used. The views were picked up directly from the procession as it passed. Electrical optical devices made possible an instantaneous transmission of the views, as the microphones did of the sounds.

The experiment was sponsored by the British Broadcasting Corporation. That institution must be blushing happily these days with all the praise bestowed on its expert handling of the radio broadcasts, on its announcements for their competent descriptions and lack of hysterics, and on its good taste for omitting all ballyhoo and advertising.

In view of the cost, television is still pretty far away from most of the homes now equipped with radio receiving sets, but its coming seems inevitable.

HUMOR IN GERMANY

A story from Berlin tells of a movie produced by the No. 1 Nazi film company but banned immediately after its preview. Someone—apparently the director—had slipped in a few ideas of his own which were not written in the original and approved script. When Herr Goebbels, Minister of Propaganda, saw the result he was almost too shocked to speak. Enough was said, however, to make the producer flee to Vienna while the way was open.

One of the interpolated scenes shows a madman who dashes from a night club in a fictitious country and shoots off firecrackers as the king drives by. He is immediately surrounded by heavily armed police who question him thoroughly. When he says he is an author and the police sure-

A SWEET EXAMPLE

The International Sugar Conference just concluded at London is considered a success. Twenty-two nations there agreed on a five-year experiment in international control of sugar production and marketing. They fixed export quotas for all producing countries and created an international sugar council, sitting permanently, to study all questions relating to sugar.

Some observers who see no immediate practical effect from this conference are nevertheless pleased because it sets up a procedure which may be applied to other commodities. It also shows the co-operative spirit at work in Europe again. The only European power absent was Italy. Japan had an official observer there who took part in deliberations, though that country is not a signatory to the agreement.

Nationalism cropped out in one respect. It was necessary to print the final document in English, French, German and Russian. Germany and Russia were willing to use English alone, but France was not. Hence the four "official languages."

Sugar was one of the topics which was to have been tackled at the international economic conference in 1933. Perhaps now the same governments will get at other problems scheduled for that conference. They may accomplish, one at a time, ends they could not agree upon when the program was more complex.

ly know him through his books, he is answered:

"In this country we don't read books. We swim, wrestle, fence and lift weights, but we don't allow our muscles to soften by intellectualism."

It is a little hard to understand why any German official should feel that the party in power has been insulted by that, providing, of course, he believes heartily in the swimming, wrestling, fencing, and all the rest. But Herr Goebbels blew up, apparently sensing something ironical in such speeches. And as a matter of fact, they are dangerous—to Nazi leaders.

Another grievance against the war-makers is that they're always making starved populations for the peaceful nations to feed.

Any nation that puts on as good a show as England isn't through yet.

We may yet have knee pants at presidential inaugurations.

GRADUATING CLASS GUESTS OF ALUMNI OF CHS LAST NIGHTCHARLES T. BANISTER NAMED PRESIDENT; INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVEN

A handful of the potential 2,643 members of Corsicana's largest organization, the Alumni Association, entertained and initiated 118 new members, the 1937 graduating class of the Corsicana high school, into the order in the club-rooms at the school Monday night.

Charles T. Banister, Corsicana attorney, was elected president to succeed Sydney Marks. Other officers elected were Miss Lillian Jones, first vice-president; Mrs. L. P. Forsythe, second vice-president; Harry Ezell, Jr., third vice-president; Mrs. Campbell Gillespie, treasurer; Alton Austin, secretary; Sydney Marks, Gabe Goldberg and Dr. H. B. Love, nominating committee, and Miss Jewel Albritton and Mrs. Jay Silverberg, program committee for next year's annual meeting.

The association voted an amendment to the constitution providing that hereafter the three immediate past presidents make up the nominating committee.

President Marks called the meeting to order, and after commenting upon the enthusiasm shown by the members in the last few days, introduced Miss Sarah Holman, secretary, who read the minutes of the previous meeting, May 25, 1936. The 1937-38 officers were elected and an amendment to the constitution was voted.

Wells Welcomes Class.
President Marks introduced Joe Kelton Wells, former representative to the State Legislature, who delivered the address of welcome to the incoming members, to which Harry Ezell, Jr., president of the graduating class, responded on behalf of the class.

One number on the program was presented at this time, before the initiation ceremony. Alton Austin, program chairman, presented a song and dance group by Beverly Ray and Shirley Anne Henson, accompanied by Mrs. Natalie Kirkland of Kerens.

Mrs. Kirkland, who had charge of the initiation, was introduced, and officially inducted the new members into the order. She had several of the graduates prove by various ways that they had been reared on a farm, and then pitted the class of 1937 against the Alumni Association membership in several races, most of which the newcomers won. She also conducted an intelligence test, which the class of 1937 won and proved the Alumni Association had and is still.

Program Is Presented.
The remainder of the program was presented at this time by Chairman Austin.

Miss Angelina Johannapellus, violinist accompanied by Miss Juanita Allmon, played a group of popular tunes, which was followed by two accordion solos by Mrs. Wynne A. Wortham. SERIES MEETINGS SEEKING CONTROL OF COTTON INSECTS

COTTON FLEA HOPPER MAIN OBJECTIVE OF VARIOUS COUNTY DISCUSSIONS

A series of meetings dealing with the control of cotton insects, particularly cotton flea hoppers, have been under way in Navarro County since Monday and the last of these meetings will be held here at Corsicana in the County courtroom at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

W. H. Mecon, entomologist from College Station, has been present for all of these meetings and presented a motion picture depicting the life history, damage, and proper control measures for the cotton flea hopper.

These meetings have been well attended and much interest has been shown, the county agent reported. After the film was shown at these meetings, a general discussion followed, in which anyone present could ask questions that he desired concerning any of the cotton insects.

It has been brought out in these meetings that the cotton flea hopper is considered by many leading agriculturalists as being the most serious pest in Texas, and causes considerable damage practically every year in some section of the state.

The extent and location in which the largest amount of damage has occurred has varied. In general, however, cotton on the heavier soils seems to be injured more than cotton on the lighter soils.

Early Infestation Costly.
An early infestation of flea hoppers may be costly if not controlled. It is natural for the farmer to delay application of control measures when the plants are young and growing nicely, and a long season is ahead, but when there is a possibility that boll weevil, leaf worm, root rot, or a prolonged period of dry weather may cause a reduction in the fruiting of cotton, delay in controlling the flea hopper may mean the difference between a profitable season and a crop failure.

The cotton flea hopper is a very tiny insect, only about 1-8 inch long when full grown, light grayish or greenish in color, has sucking mouth parts, and obtains its food by piercing the tenderest part of the plant and sucking the plant juices. On cotton it usually the small squares less than 1-4 inch long which they seem to prefer for food. These small squares, when punctured, dry up and fall from the plant. Sulphur has proved to be the cheapest, safest, and most effective insecticide for controlling cotton flea hoppers, but the Texas Experiment Station and the U. S. department of agriculture recommend that the sulphur shall be ground fine enough so that at least 93 to 95 per cent will pass through a 25 mesh screen. These specifications can be found on the sack of sulphur.

Twelve Pound Per Acre.
These experimental agencies recommend that not less than 12 pounds of sulphur per acre should be used for application. Under usual conditions, 3 to 4 applications made at weekly intervals should give seasonal control. The sulphur must be applied in the dust form when there is a steady wind blowing, and a regular dusting machine should be used in applying it. The "bag and pole" method or "ingate seeders" will not do an efficient job. Practically all applications should be made in the morning or early in the afternoon when the air is calm.

The cost of a season control, taking into account all expenses incurred, using the method as advocated by the Experiment Station, will vary from $2.00 to $4.00 per acre, and experiments show that net gains will usually vary from $2.00 to $12.00 per acre. If any dust is raised off within 24 hours after application it should be replaced as soon as possible. Flea hoppers are found to be plentiful at this time on the native host plants in Navarro county, Mr. Robinson said.

PLANE CRASH

Slipping off on one wing, the plane burst into flames and exploded when it struck the ground. The pilot, decapitated, and enveloped in flames, was flung forward over the engine. The other bodies were not recovered from the blazing fuselage for an hour and a half.

Emme, a brother of Otto J. Emme, former local ruler, Los Angeles, Elka was reported to have invited the women, family friends, to accompany him to Los Angeles. They had been staying at Shell Beach, near here.

June 20, and pitch camp immediately. Present plans call for "open house" from 2 to 5 p. m. on Sunday and Monday along with other activities.

Colonel Landers stated that the Second Division personnel was eight-tenths Texans, and also pointed out that the state had more regular army troops and military posts than any other state in the union, as well as boasting the largest National guard organization.

All Units Represented. The detachment of the regulars to visit Corsicana will comprise a hundred men and fifteen officers, selected from the various units making up a military organization, and including both infantry and cavalry, a band, quartermaster corps, medical unit, transport company, motorized artillery and others.

Tentative plans are now being made by city officials and chamber of commerce leaders for a big parade in Corsicana on Monday afternoon, June 21, but details have not been completed. Local sponsors pointed out that Corsicana and Navarro county has always been active in military affairs, and it is hoped to have the three national guard units, the Corsicana high school band, and other organizations from over the whole county to participate in addition to the regular army forces.

law which legalized wagering on horse racing four years ago should be repealed.

A general session four months long was terminated only last week and Governor James V. Allred summoned the legislators back after a brief respite in an effort to obtain a decision in the controversy, one of the most strenuously contested in recent state history.

After a bill repealing the wagering statute enacted in 1933 passed the house of representatives by a large majority in the general session but failed to reach the floor in the senate, the governor charged the will of the people and a majority of the legislature had been thwarted.

Some forecasts that a quorum would not be present at the outset of the session was controverted when 108 of the 160 members of the house and 23 of the 31 senators registered following the official opening of the meeting with Speaker Bob Calvert of Hillsboro and Lieut-Gov. Walter F. Woodul presiding.

Address by Governor. Reading of the governor's proclamation calling the session and giving his reasons for restricting the subject matter to consideration of the race betting issue was the next business of the legislative branch with a later highlight an address by the governor.

On motion of Rep. L. M. Kenyon, of Galveston, authors of various bills dealing with racing drew lots to determine how they would be numbered.

Some of the bills provided that the effective date of repeal be delayed two years. Rep. William E. Carrasow of San Antonio sent up one to provide for local option on racing. Others proposed to prohibit dog racing.

The drawing gave Carrasow's bill the lowest number. This was not much of an advantage, however, in a special session as there appeared no way to block house floor consideration of the higher-numbered bills.

Senator Olan Van Zandt of Tingo was unanimously elected president pro tempore of the senate for the session. He succeeds Senator Claude Westerfeld, who served for the four-day interval since adjournment of the general session.

Rep. Jo Ed Winfree of Houston, an opponent of repeal, moved that all bills be referred to the committee of the whole house. Action on his motion was deferred.

Repeal Is Single Subject Submitted

AUSTIN, May 27.—(P)—The Texas legislature, refreshed from a four-day respite, reassembled today to renew the fight over repeal of the law which in 1933 legalized certificate wagering on horse races.

The lawmakers who only Sunday terminated a 131-day general session came in response to Governor James V. Allred's call for a special session to consider repeal as the single subject.

Long a champion of repeal, the governor demanded a direct vote on the issue. The house in the previous session overwhelmingly approved a repeal measure but in the senate it died on the calendar because advocates could not muster the necessary two-thirds majority to take it up out of regular order.

Observers believed the battle likely would begin in the house where the state affairs committee had set a hearing Friday, provided the bill was referred to that body. House opponents had launched a drive to obtain consideration by the committee of the whole house, although they admitted it likely would pass the house again.

Indications were that both branches would have quorums for the opening roll call. The opinion had been expressed earlier in the week that the senate might not have a quorum until Monday.

Must Run Senate Gauntlet. It was conceded the bill must

TEXAS BUILDING PERMITS IN APRIL ABOVE LAST YEAR

AUSTIN, May 25.—(Spl.)—Building permits in Texas during April were substantially above those of the corresponding month last year, but slightly under those of the preceding month, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported. Permits in 36 Texas cities during April totaled $6,798,507, an increase of 30.3 per cent over April last year and 3 per cent under March.

Cities in which total permits for April were greater than in both the preceding month and the like month last year were: Brownsville, Corsicana, Del Rio, Denison, El Paso, Galveston, Jacksonville, Lubbock, Marshall, Palestine, Port Arthur, Sweetwater, Tyler and Waco.

ORGANIZATION OF SOFTBALL LEAGUE SET IN MOTION

The board of directors of the Corsicana Softball Association met Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. and worked out plans for the league's operation this year. Present were Ed Fitterbach, V. E. Wheeler, N. Suttie Roberts and Johnny Noble, director, and several interested persons.

Noble was retained as secretary and treasurer and authorized to accept entry fees from teams that want to participate in this year's play. The entry fee was set at $20 per team, which is about $5 higher than last year's fee.

It was estimated by the directors that it will take about $5 per team more this year than it did last year to operate the league, because there are several increased expenses, and new wire to be purchased.

Rules and regulations, drawing up a schedule and selecting a czar and other details are to be worked out at another meeting of the league duds in the near future. No date was set for the opening games, but it is expected to start play in the near future.

run a gauntlet of parliamentary her before a final vote was taken.

Senator H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur, advocate of repeal, expressed an opinion just before the session started that 11 senators were certain for repeal, 15 "fairly definite" and 17 "possible." Sixteen is a majority.

Anti-repealists indicated they would make a determined effort to substitute local option for repeal and another suggestion was that the effective date of repeal be delayed for two years to permit track operators to realize more from their investments. Three major tracks, Arlington Downs between Dallas and Fort Worth; Epson Downs at Houston and Alamo Downs at San Antonio, have been operated and many smaller meets have been conducted since wagering was legalized.

Representative Lanham (D-Texas) served notice he would offer a similar amendment later, declaring that most foreign nations had eliminated American aliens from relief.

The bill swept past the first attempt to amend it today.

A proposal by Representative Rich (R-Pa) to set up an advisory board of five senators and five representatives to co-operate with the president in determining how the money should be spent was ruled out of order.

Representative Woodrum (D-Va) said it was imperative that the house act today on conference reports on the independent offices and second deficiency appropriation bills and announced he would ask that the house interrupt consideration of the relief bill, if need be, to assure action on the reports, which may take two or three hours.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(P)—Members of the house assembled today for a major battle over the earmarking of relief funds for the roads, schools, dams and other public works.

Administration leaders, seeking to reverse tentative allocation of one-third of the $1,500,000,000 fund for special purposes, said they would demand roll calls putting each congressman on record for or against each proposed diversion.

"These changes would practically destroy the bill as a relief measure," said Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Texas) after a strategy meeting of administration leaders.

He said they would force dropping 1,200,000 persons from the work relief rolls, where as the administration proposed reducing the lists by only 500,000.

One of the earmarking proposals, sponsored by Chairman Jones (D-Texas) of the house agricultural committee, would provide $10,000,000 to build small lakes and ponds in the Southwest "dust bowl."

In addition to the funds for PWA and the dust bowl, the earmarking proposals provided $150,000,000 for highway construction and $45,000,000 for flood control.

TEXAS POULTRY SHIPMENTS SHOW APRIL INCREASE

AUSTIN, May 25.—(Spl.)—Shipments of poultry from Texas to interstate points during April increased sharply over April last year, but egg shipments were moderately lower, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Forwardings of all classes of poultry totaled 98 cars, against 71 cars during April last year, an increase of nearly 40 per cent. Egg shipments to interstate points amounted to only 48 cars, compared with 59 cars last year, a decline of nearly 19 per cent.

Receipt of eggs from out of state totaled fifteen cars in April, against 24 cars in the like month last year.

John D. Rockefeller left in 1917, preceded the burial. Following the burial, members of the family lunched with Cleveland relatives. They will return to their homes tonight.

CLEVELAND, May 27.—(P)—John D. Rockefeller returned in death today to the city where he started his business career as a $4 a week clerk.

A special car which left the financier's Tarrytown, N. Y., home after funeral services yesterday, brought his body to East Cleveland, a few blocks from Lake View cemetery, where a grave had been prepared between those of Rockefeller's mother and wife. The simplest of burial services had been arranged for the 97-year-old founder of the Standard Oil Co., who died Sunday in Florida.

BEAUTY CHATS

By EDNA KENT FORBES

All requests for beauty information desired by Edna Kent Forbes column followers must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (a.s.e.) and two cents in stamps to cover cost of printing and handling. For the illustrated pamphlet, "How to Do Your Hair," fully a.s.e. must be enclosed. Address Miss Forbes in care of this paper.

HOW TO DO YOUR HAIR

New Hair Styles.

Suit your hair dressing to your type. Miss Forbes suggests how. You can even change your type entirely by changing the style of your hair dressing.

Have you a very young face? You can wear your hair just about any way you want. You can wear it that most lovely of all fashions, parted in the middle and combed demurely down each side of your face. If your hair is dark, you will look like the heroine of a romantic Victorian novel; if it is fair, you may look as lovely as Ann Harding. You will certainly stand out from the permanent wavyed companions in your set.

Also, if you are young and have small features and a thin figure, not a very good one, you can go boyish and wear a straight bob. This also sets you off from other people, and it certainly saves you money, for you do your hair yourself and comb it into place as it dries.

But if you are rather ugly, or only just plain, or if you are getting on so the years show on your face, then you will have to join the wavyed and marcelled crowd. For the wavy hair does soften an ageing face.

But how should you wave it? If you are the type, the wavyed front part down on the forehead in the 1870 manner is often very attractive. But evening dresses are going short in the skirt now and it looks as though our romantic gown fashions were giving way to tailored even mannish styles. With these you can have your hair waved, but not in a fluff over your forehead.

Try a side parting to soften the face; this is the most usual becoming way. A middle parting if your face is full. If very long and thin, bring a fringe down on the forehead and cut it off above the eyebrows. Keep it thin, wavyed if possible; part it a little at one side just to show the height of the forehead. Let the rest of your hair be short and well shingled in the back. This can round out a thin head, it can make a fat one thin.

D.—When white specks appear in the nails, it sometimes comes from poor circulation, and again from limey deposits. Sometimes children have this trouble, and then outgrow it, possibly because of an improvement in health, with a better circulation as the result from it. If the trouble appears to be in the skin under the nails, and not in the nails, it should be cared for by a doctor. Watched, of course, for a reasonable length of time, to see if the specks, or patches, grow fainter, and if not, see what a doctor may do to help you with it. Streaks under the nails, such as you describe, would be most unusual, and should not be ignored for long. In the meantime the only thing that can do is manicure and buff the nails to improve the circulation under them.

Mrs. E.—You will be able to purchase these rinses at any place where you buy your creams or other beauty-making materials. They are vegetable, and harmless, and wash out of the hair at each time of a shampoo. They are sold everywhere now where a fairly good line of such things is kept.

Miss G.—Probably the excessive amount of sweets may have had something to do with these eruptions appearing over your back, but whatever caused them, the same treatment is needed. Clear out your system, and keep the digestion sweet, and your skin trouble will disappear. Among the alkaline foods are buttermilk, cottage cheese, all citrus fruit, and since you enjoy these, take plenty of them until you have improved your condition.

WILL SEEK FUNDS FOR TEXAS COTTON RESEARCH STATION

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—Representative M. K. Kleberg of Corpus Christi, Tex., said today funds for a cotton use research station in Texas would be sought in the next deficiency appropriation bill if the Texas legislature passes a bill establishing the station.

"We haven't heard yet of the fate of the Texas bill," said Kleberg. "Working on the assumption that it has, or will be enacted, we have drafted a measure to provide $250,000 for federal participation in the project."

Kleberg said Senator Tom Connally of Texas would offer the bill in the senate in an effort to have it included in the deficiency appropriation measure.

Bill Was Passed.

AUSTIN, May 23.—(AP)—The Texas legislature recently passed a bill establishing a cotton research laboratory to be located in East Texas to find new outlets for possible increased production, since exports have dropped in the face of greater foreign consumption.

Legislators figured a central agency to co-ordinate laboratory work on new methods of utilization might stimulate farmers into growing an additional three or four million bales a year.

The state will build and maintain the laboratory which will be operated by the government in cooperation with Texas agronomists.

STEEL STRIKES

Plants in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania, were included in the strike order. Some closed, others continued operations. A spokesman for Republic declared that company "will continue to make steel."

Minor disturbances attending the start of the industry's worst industrial conflict in two decades. A shotgun blast wounded a Republic foreman at a picket line in Canton, O. Police arrested more than a score of pickets who resisted efforts to dislodge them from Republic property in South Chicago.

Counter-Attack Planned.

While the CIO waged war on independent steel, American Federation of labor chieftains laid plans in Cincinnati for a counter-attack on the John L. Lewis forces. The Cincinnati conference produced additional evidence that some A. F. L. leaders were ready to ignore traditional craft boundaries and push unionization by industry.

The A. F. L. executive council summoned representatives of several unions charged with showing open sympathy for the rival CIO. They expected to be sentenced to "suspension," the penalty meted out to the 10 original CIO unions.

I labor and capital alike watched for repercussions of violence attending the United Automobile Workers Union's attempt to organize Ford Motor company workers. Two organizers for the CIO union and 10 other persons were injured in a skirmish outside the company's Detroit plant.

Union leaders declared the company responsible for the attack on organizers who sought to distribute handbills to Ford workers. An attorney for the U. A. W. filed charges against the company with the national labor relations board.

Secret Order.

The alleged "secret" and "most urgent" Italian war office document produced, with a Rome date of January 6, 1937, states its subject is "volunteers for any destination."

The purported order reads: "In confirmation of telephonic orders. Whole of personnel, officers, noncommissioned officers and troops of royal army and of MVSN (Volunteer Militia of National Security) ready for purposes of OMS (military operations in Spain) should be supplied with badges of ranks and with stars (for royal army) or with lictor's panthers (for militia)."

The document was alleged to have been signed by the executive quartermaster of the general staff.

Another document purportedly was from the command of the second brigade of Italian "black flame" volunteers.

It stated many officers en route to different garisons had asked Spanish military authorities to give them various pieces of equipment.

Another order said to have been signed by Divisional Commander General Mancini transmitted a message from the grand council of fascism which "bears ever in mind the fifty thousand comrades who are fighting under the (Fascist) emblem x x x."

A purported visional order dated March 15, 1937, said:

"The Italian legion is highly pleased with the work of his blackshirts. Explain to all the enormous losses suffered by the enemy in men, materials, airplanes shot down, towns destroyed by artillery and aviation."

A warning was sounded in another alleged order which said: "Appointments for radio communications with relatives constitute evident proof of the presence of Italian troops in Spain. This proof at any moment may spread anywhere."

British Armistice Plan Abandoned

LONDON, May 27.—(AP)—A British plan for an armistice in Spain was virtually abandoned today. The disclosure was made in connection with plans for a simple plea to both sides in the Spanish Civil conflict to "humanize the war."

This was put in first place on the agenda of the European non-intervention committee.

Previously, a truce to permit the withdrawal of all foreign fighters in Spain had been suggested by the British.

Soviet Russia's members of the committee yesterday blocked immediate dispatch of an appeal to Spain when the non-intervention body attempted to extend the body beyond a mere request to Spaniards to cease the bombing of "open" towns.

A new draft of the note will be considered by the committee Friday for final action.

The non-intervention committee, after sending the "humanization" note to Spain, is expected to consider a technical plan now in the hands of member governments for the withdrawal of volunteers without an armistice.

Insurgent Attacks On Bilbao Renewed

HENDAYE, Franco—Spanish Frontiers May 27.—(AP)—Paying the way with a dawn strafing of Basque lines by field guns and airplanes, insurgent forces on the Southern Bilbao front renewed fierce attacks today to close the Basque capital's "back door" to Central and Western Spain.

Hard fighting was reported along the Nervion river and in the hills around Orduna—scene of a Carlist defeat in 1898—where the Basque defenders of the Orduna-Bilbao road, which parallels the Nervion river.

Despite the preparatory shelling and machine gunning, the Basque defenders of the Orduna-Bilbao road, which parallels the Nervion river.

The insurgents extended their domination of the southern Basque lands further westward, their communiqué asserted, in a successful attack on the Murguia-Bilbao highway.

In Bilbao, crowded with refugees, the Basque government announced last night a postponement of execution of death sentences against three German aviators captured while serving with Mola's air forces, in order to facilitate calmer discussion about prevention of motives which could serve to prolong the intervention of fascist states in our civil war.

MESSAGE

not to be repeated because it is an attempt to legislate morals," he said. "No one has ever asserted that morality can be legislated into a people. The same argument could just as well be used against all our vice laws; but it is no argument against such laws."

"We are dedicated as a state to legislation seeking to remove so much as possible the opportunity for unbridled indulgence in vice. Repeal of the race track gambling law will remove the temptation, the opportunity and, to some extent, the inclination to gamble."

He stated practically all the bookie shops in Texas had come to flourish since passage of the race track betting law, that there had been an almost complete breakdown in enforcement of other gambling laws and the state was in an inconsistent position where it permitted gambling in one place and forbade it in another.

The governor said the argument that the law ought not to be repealed because of revenues accruing to the state was weak and shallow and that if tribute was to be accepted from "an evil which all concede is bad, then let us legalize all forms of vice."

Doesn't Need Gambling Revenues.

Texas doesn't need gambling revenues," he said. "Everyone ultimately realizes that the honest man can't beat the gamblers. The state can't beat them either; and we ought not to set up a skin game for a part of the take."

He denied "millions of dollars" had been invested in race tracks, adding investments had been made with the "full notice of the temper of the people of Texas" and had been continued with "notice of the gambling issue and demands in our Democratic platform."

The governor continued he could not understand how any lover of good horses could espouse the continuation of a law "which makes it possible for narcotic traffickers to find a ready market for their wares by providing means for driving dumb animals insane."

"There is no record of a horse ever being doped except to run a race," he said. "All the races ever run are not worth the agony and cruelty dealt even one of these poor, helpless beasts."

The narcotic traffic has been intensified, he declared, not only among animals but, "among men down here in Texas," and "has its headquarters around the race track."

"Most of the substantial citizens of Texas want it repealed," he said. "Most of the church people want it repealed."

FORD

terday afternoon at three gates of the huge Rouge plant.

Frankenstein and Rutherford said they and two fellow organizers were set upon without provocation by men they recognized as Ford service men—members of the department which guards Ford property.

Harry H. Bennett, who as Ford personnel director heads the service department, said Ford workmen, incensed at taunts of "scabs" and "slaves," routed the union members. He declared the melee was "a frame-up by the union to form the basis for a La-Follette committee investigation and make political capital for the union."

Investigators today were being conducted by representatives of the business forces want it repealed.

Local Option Feature.

With reference to local option on the question, which may be proposed, Governor Allred said it had been passed upon unfavorably by the 31st legislature in 1906 and by the senate in the last session.

Again he declared against permitting "gambling in one community and denying it in another" and declared "bookie shops will do a more fruitful business than ever in that event."

There is no comparison between local option on liquor and local option gambling," he said. "The constitution expressly permits a local option election to determine whether liquor shall be sold in a given community."

The governor indicated he would submit legislation to tighten laws against bookies and prohibit betting on dog racing. Repeal of the horse race betting statute had been acted upon.

"If those subjects are submitted now," he said, "they may be used as a vehicle for obstruction; and I have no doubt they can be promptly passed almost as uncontested bills if you will but take this great forward step by first wiping out the race track gambling law."

the senate civil liberties committee headed by Senator Robert M. LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.); the National Labor Relations Board, and members of Wayne county Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea's staff. The U. A. W. announced it intended to prosecute "in every possible way" those responsible for the beatings.
